Proposal Abstract/Summary:

This proposal seeks to create a new subplan or named option for the Master of Science Special Education major. The Special Education master's degree currently offers two unofficial program "tracks." We are seeking to formalize these program tracks by creating subplans or named options to reflect these two program emphases. This proposal describes the Special Education Research and Theory subplan.

Does the parent program offer this as an additional major as well?
No
Will this be offered as an additional major as well?
Explain the program's process for reviewing joint degree proposals from students.

Describe the reason for offering the program as an additional major. Include evidence of student interest and demand, how the additional major benefits the students' learning experience, and describe how the program has capacity in course offerings and advising to support the additional major.
Provide information on which degree/majors it will likely be combined with most frequently and provide evidence that such combinations will not extend student time to degree beyond the standard four academic years.
Briefly describe the process the student follows to get permissions to declare the additional major from the primary degree/major and the additional major offering unit.
Will a doctoral minor be required?
Explain the rationale for the decision.
Describe the alternate breadth training resources that will be made available to/required of students.
Is this a non-admitting master's degree?
SUSPENSION AND DISCONTINUATION
What is the date by which you will submit a plan to resolve the suspended status, if approved?
What is the last term that a student could declare this program?
What is the last term that students may be enrolled in or complete the program?
What is the timeline and advance communication plan?
Explain the precipitating circumstances or rationale for the proposal.

What is the potential impact on enrolled students?
What is the potential impact on faculty and staff?
Explain and provide evidence of efforts made to confer with and to notify faculty and staff.

Teach-out plan - How will program quality be maintained during the suspended period or the teach-out period for discontinued programs?
Teach-out plan: A) For currently enrolled students, how will required courses, curricular elements, advising and other student services be provided?
Teach-out plan: B) For prospective students in the admissions pipeline, how are any commitments being met or needs to notify them that their program of interest will not be available?
Teach-out plan: C) For stopped out students, what provisions are made for their re-entry? What program(s) will they be re-entered into?
Teach-out plan: D) Provide any other information relevant to teach-out planning.

If this proposal is approved, describe the implementation plan and timeline.
This proposal formalizes our current program structure, so implementation will not require any new processes. Once approved, the title of the named option will be updated on the website.
RATIONALE AND JUSTIFICATIONS
How does the named option relate to the major and to other named options in the major, if relevant?
The Research and Theory named option is a more general program of study than the other named option (Teacher Certification). This program focuses on graduate level research and theory in the field of Special Education. A plan of study generally includes multiple research courses and theory courses in Special Education as well as related course work from other departments that contribute to the student's academic and research interests.
This proposal seeks to formalize requirements for what is currently operated as an informal program "track" in the Special Education master's degree program. Students will now be required to choose a named option/sub plan of the Special Education major. The named option provides a mechanism to denote an area of curricular emphasis on the transcript. The named option will help us reflect the significantly different requirements of this master's degree curricular option that offers a focus on research and theory versus the more applied teacher certification track which trains students for Special Education teaching practice.
Why is the program being proposed? What is its purpose?
The Research and Theory named option deepens students' academic preparation to understand key questions and issues in the field of special education and to strengthen students' analytical and research skills. These skills contribute to the development of high quality scholars and leaders in the field. Most graduates of this named option will choose to pursue further study in a doctoral program, or to pursue positions in community based, advocacy organizations that promote independence and inclusion for individuals with disabilities. Its purpose is to contribute to the preparation of leaders in the field of Special Education. The program has for many years been offered as an internal "track," so is not a new program in terms of the Department's processes or infrastructure.
How is the certificate program designed to complement the degree/major of participating students?
What is its relation to the institution's mission? (Consider the mission broadly as a major research university with missions in teaching, research, service, and the Wisconsin Idea.) How does it contribute to the mission of the sponsoring unit(s)?

Do current students need or want the program? Provide evidence. The program appeals to current teachers who wish to deepen their professional development through graduate work, as well as to students who intend to pursue doctoral study; (the Department does not admit directly to the doctoral program). The program also appeals to many international students who do not have access to graduate Special Education programs in their home countries. We expect demand to remain steady with current What is the market, workforce, and industry need for this program? Provide evidence. Although it is a small program, the program satisfies an important need to train students who do not plan to become Special Education teachers, or who are already trained Special Education teachers in order to pursue preparation for doctoral study, or to further their knowledge in the field at the graduate level. There is a national shortage of Special Education teachers and this program seeks to prepare more leaders in the field, many of whom will go on to become teacher educators through pursuit of a doctoral degree. There is also a growing demand among international students for this program. The RPSE Department has joined the Open Society Foundation Scholarship program and anticipates that this program will contribute to enrollments in the program as well. How does the program represent emerging knowledge, or new directions in professions and disciplines? In what ways will the program prepare students through diverse elements in the curriculum for an integrated and multicultural society (may include diversity issues in the curriculum or other approaches)? What gap in the program array is it intended to fill? The named option provides a pathway to a master's degree in Special Education for students who do not intend to become Special Education teachers or who already have completed a Special Education teacher certification undergraduate program. What is the rationale for this change? What evidence do you have that these changes will have the desired impact?

What is the potential impact of the proposed change(s) on enrolled students?

What is the potential impact of the proposed change(s) on faculty and staff?

Provide a summary business plan.
Provide an overview of plans for funding the program including but not limited to program administration, instructional/curricular delivery, technolog needs and program assessment.

What is the marketing plan?

Describe resource and fiscal considerations - A. Provide an overview of plans for funding the program including program administration, instructional/curricular delivery, academic and career advising, technology needs, marketing (if relevant), financial aid and scholarships (if relevant), capacity for student learning outcomes assessment and program review.
Describe resource and fiscal considerations - B. Are the faculty, instructional staff and key personnel existing or new faculty and staff? If they already serve existing programs, how are they able to add this workload? If new faculty and staff will be added, how will they be funded?
Describe resource and fiscal considerations - C. What impacts will the program have on staffing needs beyond the immediate program? How are those needs being met?
Describe resource and fiscal considerations - D. For graduate programs, describe plans for funding students including but not limited to funding sources and how funding decisions will be made.
UW System Administration and the Board of Regents require submission of budget information in a specific format. These forms will be completed in collaboration with APIR after school/college approval and before submission to UWSA for Board consideration. These forms are uploaded here by APIR.
Given considerations associated with the proposed change, describe the academic unit's fiscal capacity to support the instructional and curricular requirements, academic and career advising, student support services, technology needs, and relevant assessment of student learning and program review requirements. Is there sufficient capacity in the curricular and academic support services to meet the additional workload? For research graduate programs, include information on how the program will be administered and how student funding will be handled. For undergraduate programs, include information on academic advising, career advising, student support services.
Does the program or change require substantial new resources other than those just described? Describe the needs. Confirm that the dean is committed to providing the resources.
This is not a new program, thus new resources are not required for this program.
Are new Library resources needed to support this program? No
Provide a summary of the requirements.

Memo from the Libraries confirming that the needs can be addressed.
Describe plans for funding students including but not limited to funding sources and how funding decisions are made.
Master's students in the Special Education Research and Theory named option are not guaranteed funding through the Department at this time. However, the Department works closely with admitted students to seek funding opportunities across campus, and also has been able to support some master's students with funding through EdGRS fellowship funding or for experienced master's students with Departmental TA funding for support of undergraduate classes and practicum/student teaching supervision.
Will you be seeking federal financial aid eligibility for this Capstone program?
Capstone program students are eligible for federal financial aid (usually loans) if the participate in Gainful Employment (GE) requirements, that is, the prepare students for employment in a recognized occupation. For information about gainful employment requirements see: https://studentaid.ed.gov/sa/about/data-center/school/ge
Identify the SOC codes most closely associated with the occupational preparation the Capstone provides.
What program-specific financial aid, if any, is available for this program?
What is time period that this program is designed to be completed in by the typical student?
Gainful Employment requirements come with the need to track employment of graduates and provide additional reports – does the program have the capacity to complete these requirements?
CURRICULUM AND REQUIREMENTS
If you are proposing a change to the curriculum, what percentage of the curriculum is changing?
Provide an explanation of the reasons for such a substantial curricular change, the potential impact on students, availability of courses, and plan for transition.
Which students are eligible for the certificate?
List the specific schools and colleges.
Provide justification for the limits.

Is this certificate available to University Special (non-degree seeking students)?

Which University Special students are eligible for the certificate?

Describe certificate program procedures to advise students who do not complete the certificate to notify the program advisor if they re-enroll as a University Special student to complete the certificate.

Describe certificate program procedures to notify Adult Career and Special Student Services (ACSSS) of those University Special students who are formerly unaffiliated with the program who intend to complete a certificate.

Describe certificate program procedures to report to the Registrar's Office when a University Special student has completed the certificate and supply a list of courses that student used to fulfill certificate requirements. (Note that SIS eDeclaration and DARS are not available for University Special students.)

Parent Plan Admissions/How To Get In Requirements

Application information is available on the department website (http://rpse.education.wisc.edu/rpse/programs/graduate-degree-programs/special-education-graduate-programs/application-requirements-and-deadlines). Applicants are expected to meet general requirements for admission to the Graduate School. The admissions committee considers a variety of factors including academic preparation, letters of recommendation, personal statement, and professional experiences.

GRADUATE SCHOOL ADMISSIONS

Graduate admissions is a two-step process between academic degree programs and the Graduate School. Applicants must meet requirements of both the program(s) and the Graduate School. Once you have researched the graduate program(s) you are interested in, apply online (https://grad.wisc.edu/admissions).

Mode of Instruction Definitions

Evening/Weekend: These programs are offered in an evening and/or weekend format to accommodate working schedules. Enjoy the advantages of on-campus courses and personal connections, while keeping your day job. For more information about the meeting schedule of a specific program, contact the program.

Online: These programs are offered primarily online. Many available online programs can be completed almost entirely online with all online programs offering at least 50 percent or more of the program work online. Some online programs have an on-campus component that is often designed to accommodate working schedules. Take advantage of the convenience of online learning while participating in a rich, interactive learning environment. For more information about the online nature of a specific program, contact the program.

Hybrid: These programs have innovative curricula that combine on-campus and online formats. Most hybrid programs are completed on-campus with a partial or completely online semester. For more information about the hybrid schedule of a specific program, contact the program.

Accelerated: These on-campus programs are offered in an accelerated format that allows you to complete your program in a condensed time-frame. Enjoy the advantages of on-campus courses with minimal disruption to your career. For more information about the accelerated nature of a specific program, contact the program.

CURRICULAR REQUIREMENTS

Requirements	Detail
Minimum Credit Requiremen	t 30 credits
	The teacher certification track incorporates a professional program; average number of credits taken by students exceeds 30 credits.
Minimum Residence Credit Requirement	16 credits
Minimum Graduate Coursework Requirement	M.S. general track: Half of degree coursework (15 credits out of 30 total credits) must be completed graduate-level coursework; courses with the Graduate Level Coursework attribute are identified and searchable in the university's Course Guide (https://registrar.wisc.edu/course-guide/).
	M.S. teacher certification track:
	36 credits must be in graduate-level coursework; courses with the Graduate Level Coursework attribute are identified and searchable in the university's Course Guide (http://my.wisc.edu/CourseGuideRedirect/BrowseByTitle).
Overall Graduate GPA Requirement	3.00 GPA required.
Other Grade Requirements	The Graduate School requires an average grade of B or better in all coursework (300 or above, not including research credits) taken as a graduate student unless conditions for probationary status require higher grades. Grades of Incomplete are considered to be unsatisfactory if they are not removed during the next enrolled semester.
Assessments and Examinations	Students in the master's with teacher certification program must complete Wisconsin required teacher certification examinations. Students in the general master's program are required to complete a comprehensive examination, and a master's project or thesis.
Language Requirements	No language requirements.

PRIOR COURSEWORK

Graduate Work from Other Institutions

Students are allowed to count graduate coursework from other institutions. Coursework earned five or more years prior to admission to a master's degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements.

UW-Madison Undergraduate

With program approval, students are allowed to count 7 credits of coursework numbered 300 level or above from a UW-Madison undergraduate degree toward the graduate degree. Coursework earned five or more years prior to admission to a master's degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements.

UW-Madison University Special

With program approval, students are allowed to count no more than 15 credits of coursework numbered 300 or above taken as a UW–Madison University Special student. Coursework earned five or more years prior to admission to a master's degree is not allowed to satisfy requirements.

PROBATION

A semester GPA below 3.0 will result in the student being placed on academic probation. If a semester GPA of 3.0 is not attained during the subsequent semester of full time enrollment (or 12 credits of enrollment if enrolled part-time) the student may be dismissed from the program or allowed to continue for one additional semester based on advisor appeal to the Graduate School.

PROGRAM LEARNING OUTCOMES AND ASSESSMENT

Parent Program Learning Outcomes

(General Master's Program) Articulates, critiques, or elaborates the theories, research methods, and approaches to inquiry or schools of practice in the field of study.

(General Master's Program) Identifies sources and assembles evidence pertaining to questions or challenges in the field of study.

(General Master's Program) Demonstrates understanding of the primary field of study in a historical, social, or global context.

(General Master's Program) Selects and/or utilizes the most appropriate methodologies and practices.

(General Master's Program) Evaluates or synthesizes information pertaining to questions or challenges in the field of study.

(General Master's Program) Communicates clearly in ways appropriate to the field of study.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Special Education Advocacy and Leadership: Prepared to advocate for and provide leadership in the education of students with a wide array of learning, cognitive, social/emotional and behavioral disabilities in accordance with the standards established by the Council for Exceptional Children.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Professionalism: Adhere to professional ethical standards and conduct her or himself in a courteous and professional manner.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Collaboration and Communication: Collaborate and effectively communicate with students their families, other educators, related service providers and members of the community to address the needs of students with disabilities.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Assessment: Collect information on student backgrounds, learning characteristics and achievement that can be used to determine students' present level of performance and guide instruction.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Special Education Evaluation and Individualized Educational Planning: To the maximum possible the teacher candidate will participate in the Educational Evaluation and Individualized Educational Planning process.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Instructional Planning: Plan instruction that meets the needs of students, is consistent with State and local standards and provides access to the general education curriculum.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Instructional Presentations: Present lessons and units of instruction that gain and maintain student attention and are consistent with students' interests and IEP goals.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Classroom Management: Create and maintain a safe, positive and supportive learning environment that is conducive to learning and the mental health of the students.

(General Master's Program) Recognize and apply principles of ethical and professional conduct.

(Master's with Teacher Certification Program) Adhere to professional ethical standards and conduct her or himself in a courteous and professional manner

Summarize the assessment plan.

The assessment plan retains the same basic elements as the plan that was submitted to the Provost's office in 2016 as part of the the Special Education Master's Program Assessment Plan. At that time, we developed the assessment plan to reflect the separate "track" of the "general" master's program for teacher certification. This general masters track will now be the Special Education Research and Theory named option. The learning outcomes for the program include:

Articulates, critiques, or elaborates the theories, research methods, and approaches to inquiry or schools of practice in the field of study.

Identifies sources and assembles evidence pertaining to questions or challenges in the field of study.

Demonstrates understanding of the primary field of study in a historical, social, or global context.

Selects and/or utilizes the most appropriate methodologies and practices.

Evaluates or synthesizes information pertaining to questions or challenges in the field of study. Communicates clearly in ways appropriate to the field of study. Assessment measures include an exit survey - students will be asked to evaluate their experience in relation to the learning goals. Every three years, results reviewed by the Graduate Studies Committee. Assessment measures also include a review of the comprehensive exam. The comprehensive exam measures students' ability to synthesize knowledge about the field and apply it to a particular focus of interest in Special Education. It is evaluated using a rubric reflecting many of the learning goals. Every three years, the Graduate Studies Committee of the Special Education area will review a summary of comprehensive exam rubric results to determine how well students are doing in relation to the learning goals reflected in this rubric. Approved Assessment Plan: RELATED PROGRAMS List majors and certificates that may not be earned in combination with this program. List majors that are anticipated to frequently be completed in combination with the proposed program. For each, describe how the proposed program can be completed in combination with the major without increasing time to degree. Provide information in related programs offered by other UW System institutions and explain the extent to which the proposed program is distinct and how it overlaps or duplicates those programs. COMMITMENTS All required courses are approved through the school/college level. Yes

Courses have enrollment capacity.

Yes

Yes

Courses in the curriculum are numbered 300 or higher.

Courses are offered on a regular basis to allow timely completion.

Courses in the curriculum are numbered 699 or lower.

Courses in which a student elects the pass/fail option will not count toward completion of requirements.

Special topics courses are only used if all topics count for the certificate.

All requirements must be met; exceptions that amount to waiving requirements are not permitted.

Course substitutions to the curriculum should be kept to a minimum; if substitutions are being made on a regular basis, the curriculum should be reexamined. When course substitutions are made, the substituted course should be formally added to the curriculum through governance for inclusion in the curriculum the following academic year.

Substitutions are not permitted for any course unless the substitution would be provided for every student with the same substitution request.

When the proposed certificate is made available to University Special students it is only available to those who have earned a baccalaureate degree.

Certificate program faculty and staff understand that Adult Career and Special Student Services (ACSSS) in the Division of Continuing Studies will serve as the advising, admissions, and academic dean's office for all University Special students.

Certificate program faculty and staff will work with ACSSS to monitor and advise University Special students seeking a certificate.

Certificate courses have the enrollment capacity to accommodate University Special students. Certificate program faculty and staff understand that University Special students completing the certificate will not have enrollment priority over degree-seeking undergraduate students nor University Special students enrolled in capstone certificate programs.

If completing the certificate as a University Special student, at least 12 credits towards the certificate must be earned in residence at UW-Madison, either while enrolled as a University Special student or from coursework earned while enrolled as an undergraduate at UW-Madison. (Note this is a higher residency requirement than is used for degree-seeking students.)

All of the Capstone certificate credits must be earned "in residence" (which includes on campus and distance-delivered courses) at UW-Madison while enrolled in the Capstone certificate program. Because a Capstone certificate is comprised of just a few courses, it is not appropriate for students who already have completed the same or similar coursework at UW-Madison or another institution.

At least half of the credits must be earned in residence (UW-Madison on campus, study abroad, or distance courses); exceptions to the minimum residency requirement are not permitted.

Students must earn a minimum 2.000 GPA on required certificate coursework. Completed courses listed within the certificate curriculum, whether or not they meet a specific requirement, are included in the calculation of the GPA.

Students must earn a minimum 3.000 GPA on required certificate coursework. Completed courses listed within the certificate curriculum, whether or not they meet a specific requirement, are included in the calculation of the GPA.

Students must earn a minimum grade of C on all attempted Capstone certificate coursework.

The program faculty/staff will ensure the program is encoded into DARS and will work with the Registrar's Office DARS liaison to keep approved revisions to the curriculum current.

All students will be declared into the appropriate plan code in SIS via either an admission process or e-declaration. If the student does not have the plan code on their student record in SIS the student is not considered to be in the program.

Students may complete only 1 named option within a plan code.

Yes

The program faculty/staff will ensure the program website, Advance Your Career materials if applicable, and other presentations are consistent with the Guide information for this program.

Yes

Certificate requires no more than half of the credits required for a major in a related field.

Credential will not be awarded retroactively to students who completed all of the requirements before the credential was approved.

Yes

Degree#seeking students may not be concurrently enrolled in a Capstone certificate program.

Students enrolled in Capstone certificate programs are NOT eligible for teaching assistant (TA), research assistant (RA), project assistant (PA) nor graduate fellowship support. Programs must disclose this program policy to Capstone certificate students in the recommendation of admission letter, program website, program handbook, and program orientation.

To be eligible for admission to a Capstone program, a student must hold an earned bachelor's degree or equivalent credential from an accredited college or university.
